Supply Chain Overview

The supplier ecosystem of Wipro can be broadly categorized into two heads – the ‘primary supply chain’ which means extended workforce involved in core delivery of IT Services and Solutions; and product or services suppliers or ‘secondary supply chain’ who provide materials, equipment and end products, business support services and facility management services for our operations.

Wipro’s supply chain is innately linked to its successful growth and works end-to-end to incorporate specific industry experience as well as a cross-industry perspective to help seed continuous innovation. Wipro’s Central Procurement Organization has automated its supply chain management through a strategic web-based portal that covers all stages of procurement and provides end-to-end supplier onboarding across all businesses. This portal requires all prospective suppliers to register with Wipro, update their business details and to ensure their adherence to Wipro’s Supplier Code of Conduct (SCOC), which is in line with its Code of Business Conduct and Ethics.

Risks of Modern Slavery Practices

Wipro follows a risk-based assessment of its complex operation and supply chain. Wipro understands that the population, location, industry / sector, type of products / services and categories of investments involved influence the level of such risk. Wipro is committed to a continuous improvement approach that effectively responds to modern slavery risks. Wipro has a well-defined criteria to identify high risk vendors, which include the industry its vendors operate in, labour intensity, financial stability, their audit records etc.

Actions taken by Wipro

Wipro Policies

Wipro’s internal policies (Code of Business Conduct & Ethics and Supplier Code of Conduct, Ombuds Policy, Human Rights Policy, Whistle-blower Policy) and practices focus on anti-slavery and anti-human trafficking and are part of a larger effort to ensure transparency, accountability and safeguarding of Human Rights extended to its supply chain. These internal policies specify Wipro’s commitment to upholding Human Rights, prohibiting slavery, servitude, forced labour, child labour and human trafficking and are available on Wipro website (wipro.com>>About Wipro>>Diversity, Equity and >>HR policy). Wipro expects all those who work with and for it including without limitation, its personnel, supply chain and contractors, to read and comply with its policy and practices.

Wipro's Code of Business Conduct and Ethics applies to all employees of Wipro. It specifically identifies and prohibits several forms of modern slavery. These include any act of human trafficking, slavery, servitude and forced or compulsory labour.

The Code of Business Conduct and Ethics also highlights and disavows the practice of child labour throughout its business and its supply chain. Beyond its own prohibition of child labour, Wipro is committed to work in a proactive manner to eradicate child labour by directly and actively contributing to best practices, including only legitimate workplace apprenticeships, internships and other similar programmes that comply with all laws and regulations.

Wipro Cares Initiative

Wipro Cares is an employee-led community initiative arm of the Wipro Foundation and engages in education, primary healthcare, and community ecology and disaster response in proximate communities. It is a unique opportunity for Wipro employees to respond to community needs and contribute to social causes. More than 30,000 Wipro employees are currently engaged with Wipro Cares either through volunteering or by way of monetary contributions or both.

Supplier Code of Conduct

Wipro's Supplier Code of Conduct specifically requires suppliers to ensure that their employees are hired on their own free will and that they must prohibit forced, bonded, or any other form of compulsory labour such as slavery or trafficking, transporting, harbouring, recruiting, transferring or receiving persons by means of threat, force, coercion, abduction or fraud for labour or services in all of their operations. As part of Wipro's Supplier Code of Conduct, Suppliers and their agents are required not to confiscate any identity or immigration documents, such as government-issued identification cards, passports or work permits, unless required by law.

If suppliers do not comply with the Supplier Code of Conduct, or are found to be non-compliant with anti-slavery or anti-human trafficking practices in their business, or knowingly in their supply chain, Wipro retains the right to terminate the contract for services with immediate effect, including future blacklisting of the supplier concerned taking into account the extent of non-compliance and pursue legal remedies against the supplier concerned.

Wipro also endeavours to foster an environment of open and honest communication. Suppliers are encouraged to raise concerns with respect to any suspected violations of this Code or any other specific concern arising out of their business relationship with Wipro or its officers or employees to Wipro's Ombudsperson.

Wipro reviews the types of issues/ concerns reported and initiates corrective and preventive measures where required.

Assessing Adherence to Wipro's Values

Wipro expects its employees, supply chain personnel, contractors and all of those associated with it to adhere and comply with Wipro's values and policies. All employees provide annual declaration to this effect. Wipro's vendors are required to provide declarations of compliance with Wipro's Supplier Code of Conduct which covers various aspects of anti-modern slavery, human rights, anti-bribery and corruption etc.

Training and Awareness
